STATEMEN ON POLL TAX AMENDMENT:

SOME THOUGHTS ABOUT THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO OUR VOTING LAWS:

Twenty days from this date our general election will be held. Along with the candidates for office you will be given a ballot and asked to vote for or against certain changes in our election laws, and I doubt very much if five out of each hundred voters will know anything about what they are really voting for.

FAR BE IT FROM ME TO TELL YOU HOW TO VOTE —
This is not my purpose at all— This is a free country (At least it is supposed to be and was once upon a time) but little by little we are losing our boasted independence, and Washington is becoming the power house and dictator for all our activities.

Already the Federal Government is setting prices on what you grow —fixing rent control — Telling you what you shall pay for labor—Trying to give you socialised medicine and run your schools and in many ways encroaching on what was in the South term State Rights.

The latest movement which is before you right around the corner is a proposal by amendment to the Virginia Constitution to do away with the $1.50 poll tax as a requirement to vote. Virginia is advocating this change in our election laws as explained to meet the expected Federal law which would prohibit payment of a poll tax as a requirement for voting for any Federal office holders.

I for one doubt very much the wisdom of making this change and certainly would advise waiting until the Federal law is a fact and it has passed the test of the courts. I do not think any person who is unwilling to pay $1.50 for the right to vote should have a vote and to do away with this requirement will invite much fraud with the illiterate and irresponsible voter.

But if this were all it would not be so bad — but in this package of Amendments if you approve you also place the appointive power for your election machinery with the Governor instead of your local Judge. You also change your plan of registration, making it necessary to register every year four months before each election.

Can you imagine the Governor of Virginia being familiar with the 100 counties and many cities of this state so that he should be the appointee of the various electorial boards?

But last and perhaps worst of the whole business, when you approve this proposed change you do away with a tax of $1.50 and authorize the legislature at their discretion to levy on each adult person in the state a head tax up to a maximum of four dollars.

Summing it all up briefly here is he new plan—

First—You do away with the $1.0 poll tax and every one who registers may vote—No tax requirement.

Second— Complete change of election machinery, method of registering and appointment of officers and their terms of office.

Third—Authorize at anytime at the discretion of the General Assembly to asess a head tax up to $4.00 for each man and woman over 21 years, partly for school purposes and partly for general uses.

If you approve these things you should vote For. Opposed, Against.

This entire business is too complicated and there is much of it which to a layman I would say is a pig in a polk.

I am only interested in having you know what you are doing before we go too far and if I have made any statement which is not a fact I have not intended to do so and I invite correction, but as I now see it, I shall certainly vote against this change.

Yours very truly,
A. R. HARWOOD.
